FEB 12TH RECAP

This was a classic Big 12 battle right from the opening tip as undefeated Kansas faced an upstart Texas squad that was hungry for its first win. Both teams were neck and neck throughout the ballgame until Texas pulled ahead late; Kansas's top scorer, Jeremy Gertz (game high 15 points) saw his last second shot fall half in and back out as the Longhorns recorded the 38-36 victory. Joshua Greco led the Longhorns with 12 points.

In another close affair, the Big 12's two most potent offenses squared off at Joy Of The Game. Oklahoma State put on a show back in January, but last week belonged to the Missouri Tigers who downed the Cowboys in overtime 38-37. William Pujals led Mizzou with 12 points and Luke Zucker added 12. Dominic Martinelli led all scorers with 19 points for Oklahoma State; the Cowboys also received seven from Alex Guman.

Normal, a 35 point showing would be good enough for a win in the Big 12, but not on opening weekend as Kansas State fell to Kansas 40-35. Knowing they needed more, K-State rose to the occasion and rattled off 52 points in a 52-31 win over Iowa State at the Basketball Warehouse. The Wildcats used a 19-8 advantage in the fourth quarter to pull away from the Cyclones. Tanner Mack led K-State with 20 points; Ryan Lederer had nine for Iowa St.

And at the Christian Heritage Academy, the high flying Baylor Bears had no intention of letting their perfect record slip away, so with strong team defense and another showing of potent offense, the Bears came away with a 35-21 win to stay tied atop the standings with Mizzou at 2-0. Oklahoma dug itself an early hole and was never able to climb back out. Luckily the Sooners still have plenty of time to right the right in the coming weeks.
